

Reporting on our Gender Pay Gap

At Bidvest Noonan, we are committed to equality. We have comprehensive policies in place to ensure our business provides equal opportunities to all. We are working to increase all aspects of the diversity of our workforce, and we are committed to reducing our gender pay gap, which includes female representation at our leadership levels. As part of that commitment to increase all aspects of diversity in our workforce, we are actively including the attraction of more females into Security roles and we will continue to do more to improve female representation in such roles, this is a positive indicator in addressing the gender pay gap.

Hourly Pay Gap

The vast majority of the male roles are employed in security which has a largely male workforce in Ireland. These roles are typically full-time, are city-based and attract a rate of pay set by the Joint Labour Commission by way of an Employment Regulation Order (“ERO”). In contrast, the majority of cleaning roles are occupied by females, typically part-time roles and nationwide, therefore, attracting pay rates are also governed by ERO but at a lower level.

The % of Women in each Pay Quarter

We have continued to develop ED&I strategies to specifically target gender balance across all leadership roles and we will continue to strive towards balanced gender representation across our business.
